Dear Hattie

Pull up a chair, honey. What's on your heart?

A LITTLE NOTE FROM HATTIE

Thank you for trusting us with your question. We read submissions before deciding which ones may be answered. Selected questions may appear in a future Dear Hattie feature, with identifying details removed or changed for privacy. We may edit questions for clarity or length. Not every question can receive a personal reply.

YOUR PRIVACY MATTERS

Please do not send passwords, account numbers, medical records, financial statements, or other private details. Do not include anyone else's identifying information. Email is not a confidential or emergency-support channel.

WHAT TO EXPECT

Questions are reviewed by the Southern Grace team. If yours is selected, we may publish an edited, de-identified version with a thoughtful response. Sending a question does not guarantee a reply or publication. We will not publish your email address.

A FRIENDLY REMINDER

Dear Hattie shares general encouragement and perspectives, not professional medical, mental-health, legal, tax, or financial advice. For urgent situations, please contact a qualified local professional or emergency service.

A little Southern kindness goes a long way.
