

Where Did My Money Go?

FARM EXPENSE TRACKER | Farmer's Corner | Southern Grace Ledgers LLC

START HERE

Running a farm means expenses can show up in the barn, at the feed store, and halfway across town. This simple printable tracker gives every receipt a place to land.

- 1. Pick a month. Write the month and year at the top of your log. Print additional log pages whenever you need them.
- 2. Catch each expense. Record the date, who you paid, what you bought, the farm activity or enterprise, and the amount.
- 3. Choose a category. Use practical labels such as feed, seed, fertilizer, fuel, repairs, equipment, veterinary, utilities, or other.
- 4. Keep the proof. Save receipts or digital copies in a folder with the same month and year. Mark the receipt reference on the log.
- 5. Review the month. Add expenses by category on the monthly review page. Compare with sales and plan for upcoming bills.

A little friendly reminder

This tracker is an organization tool, not a determination of which expenses are tax-deductible. Keep personal and farm spending separate, and ask your tax professional about classification and deductions.

More time for business. More time for family.

Farm Expense Log

Print as many copies of this page as you need.

Farm / business: _____ Month / year: _____

[illegible]

Page subtotal: $ _____ Carried to monthly review: []

Tip: Number receipts or name photos by date so you can find them later.

Monthly Farm Money Check-In

Use your expense logs to see where the money went.

Farm / business: _____ Month / year: _____

Expense category	Monthly total
Feed & livestock supplies	$
Seed, plants & fertilizer	$
Fuel & transportation	$
Equipment & rentals	$
Repairs & maintenance	$
Veterinary & animal care	$
Utilities & insurance	$
Market & selling costs	$
Other expenses	$

Total farm expenses: $ _____

Farm sales / other operating income (optional): $ _____

Income minus tracked expenses (not necessarily net profit): $ _____

LOOK AHEAD

Largest surprise expense: _____

Expense I can plan for next month: _____

Receipts or records still missing: _____

Note: This simplified check-in does not account for all costs, inventory changes, depreciation, financing, or owner labor. It is not a full profit-and-loss statement.